Central Directions on completion of irrigation projects

281. DR. RATNAKAR PANDEY: Will the Minister of WATER RESOURCES be pleased to state:

(a) whether Central Government have given any direction to the State Governments with regard to speedy completion of on-going major national irrigation projects; and

(b) if so, what are the details thereof?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF WATER RESOURCES (SHRIMATI KRISHNA SAHI): (a) and (b) A major objective in the irrigation sector during the Seventh Plan is to give priority to the completion of unfinished irrigation projects which are in an advanced stage and are capable of yielding benefits in the Seventh Plan, and accordingly the State Governments have been asked to take necessary steps. The National Conference of Irrigation and Water Resources Ministers held in July, 1986 recommended that Review Committees should be set-up in each State under the Chairmanship of the Chief Ministers to draw up priorities for the optimal allocation of limited resources among the various Projects. Further, the National Water Policy recommends that under-funding of projects should be obviated by an optimum allocation of resources, having regard, among others, to early completion of ongoing projects.
